State Cagers Meet San Jose State In Opener Tonight

Spartans Rated Seventh In Pre-Season Polls

By Marv Cohn

This Friday night San Francisco State basketball coach Dan Farmer takes his green group of cagers down to San Jose, to open State's 1950-51 basketball slate. The Gators will meet the Spartans on their own court, and presumably, on their own terms. The game starts at 8 o'clock.

Some experts rate the San Jose State basketball team as seventh in the United States in the pre-season ratings. None figure the Spartans to wind up their season any lower than the nation's tenth best team. The Gators, on the other hand, are not even rated nationally, and of their first five men, only two have played at State before. Even so, Coach Farmer is doing anything but singing the blues. With a cager like Kev Duggan around, what coach would?

KEV DUGGAN STAR

Duggan, a transfer from San Francisco City College, was an All-American Junior College forward, and can do just about everything there is to do around a casabana court. Farmer plans to use Kev as the nucleus, around which he will build the team. The first move was to change the versatile Duggan from forward to center, where he is more needed. Then, Farmer installed veteran Johnny Walsh and newcomer Al Desen at the forward posts. Rounding out the starting lineup will be returning guard Alex Athanopoulos, and Roy Weisser, another newcomer to the State squad.

Farmer believes that the toughest job the State Cagers will have this season, is to make a smooth blending of the old and new players on the team. "It takes time to do this job correctly," stated the coach. "When it is done, however, the team should be well balanced, and will certainly win its share of games."

USE FAST BREAK

As the team now stands, they have a highly developed fast break, with a change of pace that enables them to go smoothly into a slow break formation. All of the first five men are exceptionally good shots, including Duggan, who Farmer figures to be the team's high scorer.

GATORS WARM UP

So far this season, State has played one warm-up game and has engaged in two scrimmages, one with San Quentin and one with U.S.F. In the game, the Gators turned back the Moffet Field Naval Air Station, 75-36, and in the scrimmages, the team made very

THE WEATHERMAN SEZ:

'Winter Carnival' Breaks Ice Tonight and That's No Snow

The gym will be transformed into a winter wonderland tonight as the Sigma Delta Gamma sorority takes over with a presentation of their second annual Winter Carnival dance.

Despite the cool atmosphere, Jimmy Polos (both south and north) and his orchestra promise to keep the place warm with his hot music.

Against a setting of snow men and candy canes the dance will capture the romantic mood of the snow season, and in keeping with its date, the first of December, a Christmas tree will provide further emphasis to the gay yuletide spirit. What could be more appropriate in the refreshment line than snow cones? That's the menu.

Admission for the affair will be 75 cents with student body cards and one dollar without.

Mary Ann Earle, Mary Ellen Berry, Marion Martin, Marie Sandy, Anne Bryan, Kathy Gruner, Jackie Stuhr and Beverly Kaster comprise the dance committee.

The Sigma Delta Gamma intramural team will act as floor committee, and if by chance a blizzard strikes, they will be on hand to shovel snow.

The Golden Gater Switches to Friday

The Golden Gater will be published each Friday of the semester, instead of on Thursday.

In an effort to further streamline the circulation system, an "honor system" will be instituted for the next few issues. It is hoped such a move will facilitate the mechanics of circulation and afford greater convenience to the reader.

Students possessing associated student membership cards will be asked to sign a paper with their student body card number, while students without will find a box posted beside the circulation point for them to deposit their nickels.

Board Making Inquiry Into Athletic Authority

PE Authority Over Contracts, Game Cancellations, Schedules Questioned

Allocation of Plane Seats On Pear Bowl Trip Under Fire

Everyone is going tonight, including Cartoonist Carlin McCandless' little protege on the right. Where? To San Jose, where San Francisco State's varsity basketball team meets San Jose State, ranked seventh in the nation, in the season opener. Tip-off time is at 8 p.m., with the Gator Jayvees playing the Spartan Frosh in the 6:30 preliminary.

Provided 23 students sign-up, a special bus will make up the trip. The round trip fare is $1.43 and tickets may be obtained in Hut 4A.

Federation to Seek Repeal of Loyalty Oath

Delegates from 14 professional, religious, community and labor organizations formed the Federation for Repeal of the Levering Act last night at a meeting held at the American Friends Service Center, 1830 Sutter Street. Observers from 20 additional organizations were present at the meeting.

The new organization will take action against the Levering Act in five ways. It will 1) support legal court tests on the constitutionality of the law; 2) organize mass support for repeal of the act; 3) carry on a public relations program to clarify the issues and possible consequences of the Levering Act; 4) carry out political and legislative action toward repeal of the act, and 5) finance and conduct a fund-raising campaign to sustain nonsigners of the "loyalty oath" and to pay expenses involved in the carrying out of the federation's program.

DELEGATES ATTENDED

Official delegates to the Federation for Repeal of the Levering Act represent the following organizations: The American Association of Medical Social Workers, Northern California District; The American Association of Psychiatric Social Workers, Northern California; the American Association of Group Workers, San Francisco chapter; The Alameda County Citizen's Committee Against the Levering Act; The American Association of University Professors, State College and City College chapters; the Northern California Joint Action Council for Repeal of the Levering Act; the Committee of Non-Signing Educational Employees of Northern California; the Public Employee Non-Signer group; Fellowship of Humanity, Oakland; United Public Workers, local 503 and the American Federation of Teachers, local 61.

The Levering Act, Assembly Bill 61, was passed by the California State Legislature September 26 and signed by Governor Warren seven days later. It provides, in effect, for the conscripting into civilian defense of all state, county and city employees and requires that all public employees take an extensive "loyalty oath."

FIFTY PEOPLE FIRED

Fifty public employees who already have taken an oath of allegiance to the federal and state constitutions declined to sign the oath and have since been arbitrarily dismissed or suspended from their jobs without pay. The public employees include instructors at San Francisco State College, public school teachers, educational personnel and other public workers who refused to take the additional oath on the grounds that the entire Levering Act is ambiguous, unconstitutional and an attack against academic freedom and civil liberty.

Doris Swanson, Bev Tinker, and Harry Redlick comprise the welcoming committee. The committee heads are: Pat Kilkesson, refreshments; Bob Block, floor committee; Delores Downey, tickets; Mabel Behrich, band committee, and Mary Ann Earl, publicity.

Tickets are $2.25 with Associated Member card; $2.50 without.

"Somewhere in the Night," from the song of the same name, and evidently bearing the full blessings of Petrillo, will be the theme of next Friday's Soph Strut. The strut will be held from 9:00 p.m. to the enchanting hour, at the recently revamped Century Club at Franklin and Sutter streets.

Music will be provided by Normal Knight and his orchestra. The off-campus caper is to be informal.

Punch will be served with the compliments of the sophomore class. Harry Redlick, Sophomore class president, stated that "All students are welcome and invited."

Music will be provided by Normal Knight and his orchestra. The off-campus caper is to be informal.

Students possess associated student membership cards will be asked to sign a paper with their student body card number, while students without will find a box posted beside the circulation point for them to deposit their nickels.

Students speak at tournament

Mike Barsky, Guy Morgan, Bill Davis, Chandler Meloy, Don Salbert, Jess Hernandez, and Dorothy Lockshin, participated at a speech tournament sponsored by George Pepperdine College. The tournament included 47 schools from eight states, including California, Washington and Oregon.

340 entrants competed in one-man and oxford style debate, oratory, experimental speaking extempore, speech, impromptu speaking, and discussion.

Guy Morgan came up against two national winners in the oratory preliminaries, and managed to get into the semi-finals with his oration, "The High Wall." Chandler Meloy made the semi-finals of impromptu, and he and Bill Davis made the semi-finals of experimental.

Dr. Wayne Britton accompanied this group of State speakers.

Holiday Time...

Christmas Events Planned

San Francisco State College Christmas festivities will begin December 10 with a Symphony Chorus concert and continue throughout the week with caroling, drama, and more concerts and conclude with the annual faculty-student Christmas dinner Dec. 14.

The dinner, sponsored by the Humanities Fraternity, Gamma Sigma Pi, will take place in the college cafeteria from 12:15 until 2:00 p.m. Entertainment for the proceedings will feature Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, drama department coordinator, as master of ceremonies, and music by the Faculty Quartette and the Madrigal singing group. There will also be welcoming words from President J. Paul Leonard, Dr. Elias T. Arnesen, chairman of the Humanities Division, and Dion Chesse, president of Gamma Sigma Pi.

Tickets for this gala affair, running $1.75 each, will go on sale December 4. They may be obtained from any of the various campus organizations, to which they will be distributed, or from the student body office in Hut 4A. Faculty members may purchase admission through Marie Robert in the social science office in College hall 119. Due to the limited seating capacity of the cafeteria, only 240 tickets will be available.

Other events in the week-long celebration of particular interest are the caroling concert, to be presented in FB auditorium at 12 noon on December 11; a general college assembly December 13 at the Waller Street Baptist Church, featuring combined musical and dramatic performances, and December 15's program of Christmas carols by the college brass choir.

Also, on December 8, a required penmanship test will be given at 4 p.m. in Annex A-4.

Allocation of Plane Seats On Pear Bowl Trip Under Fire

Repercussions over the cancellation of the LaVerne College football game has started a chain of inquiry into the relationship between the Physical Education division and the Associated Students. At a recent board meeting six points of clarification were requested from the Athletic Board of Control.

A further request was that the athletic board re-submit its budget excluding the $750 allotted for the La Verne game. The specific requests for clarification from the athletic board were:

1. The signing of contracts by the athletic department.
2. Cancellation of football games (specifically that of Nov. 17).
3. The making of commitments and expenditure of money not specifically approved for the budget.
4. Making of transportation schedules.
5. Loss of revenue through game cancellations.
6. Does the recommended budget of $8300.00 still stand in view of the canceled game with LaVerne, the cost of which was $750.

In a letter addressed to Dean Cox, director of athletics, the board requested information concerning the seats occupied on the two planes flying to Oregon for the Pear Bowl game. Questions had arisen over the fact that Far Western Conference representatives were occupying seats on the team plane.

The Pear Bowl game was to be played in Medford, but the three FWC representatives were attending a conference in Ashland. Board members expressed the opinion that students were being deprived of an opportunity to go to the game because of this.

Dean Cox pointed out that the associated students had to pay the expenses of FWC representatives and it would be a measure of economy to send them on the team plane.

Other repercussions occurred in the board of control when the athletic budget was cut back to $7,050 dollars, but on the recommendation of the board of directors the budget was finally set at $7,500.00.

This was the full $8,300.00 budget requested, less the LaVerne game expenses.

Members of the board of directors pointed out that athletics was consuming 30 per cent of the entire budget, plus an additional 5 per cent, which is spent for athletic injury insurance.

Other appointments include in the social science department: Stewart Loomis, instructor; Warren Thornton, professor; Thomas Lantos, instructor; and Bernard Kronick, assistant professor.

Arthur Furst, assistant professor; William Hawes, assistant professor; David Blakeslee, instructor in the natural science division.

Mrs. Barth Carpenter, assistant; Phillips Davies, instructor; Harry Coates, assistant; and Eleanor McCann, instructor, have been assigned to the liberal arts division.

Other appointments include Jon L. Bodkin, art division; Leon Schlussel and Lawrence Anderson, business department; and Inez Bacigalupi, child care division.

At a special meeting held last Monday the San Francisco State College football squad voted down any further grid contests this season. A feeling from the Bay Bowl committee was the reason for the vote.

Almost unanimously the members of the team agreed that they would be unable to accept a bid to the local bowl, which is scheduled for Kezar Stadium for December 17th.

Various reasons were given by team members for voting against a bowl game, but the two most frequently voiced were that the men needed the time for study or that they had already made plans to work or other commitments on the supposition that the Pearl Bowl game last week would end the season.

The Bay Bowl has already invited Southern University of Baton Rouge, Louisiana, as one contestant. A local school will probably be engaged to meet them.

Southern University defeated the Gators in the Fruit Bowl game of 1948 at Kezar. The score was 30-0.

Credential Test Set Noon Today

Elementary credential candidates who have not taken the Elementary Credential Test in arithmetic must do so on Friday, December 8, at 12 noon in Anderson Hall, room 207. This test is important to these candidates, as it must be taken, preferably in the low junior year, in order to obtain the elementary credential.

Also, on December 8, a required penmanship test will be given at 4 p.m. in Annex A-4.

IRC Meets Tuesday To Organize Club For New Elections

Ex-officers Refuse to Run in Dec. 12 Vote

A general meeting of the International Relations Club will be held next Tuesday in the Activities Room at 7:30 p.m., announced Ed Simons, member of the board of directors.

Purpose of the meeting will be to help organize the club for the general elections, which will be held December 12. Officers elected at that time will serve for the remainder of this semester and through the Spring '51 term.

IRC was suspended in September after its executive committee planned and organized an unauthorized protest rally against the new State loyalty oath. A Club Advisory Association committee recommended reinstatement of the club after constitutional revisions and a new election was conducted.

The executive committee of the IRC resigned in entirety after their request for a simple vote of confidence was refused by the board of directors. Members of the former executive committee have declared their intention to refuse to run for club office again in the associated students conducted election.

Dr. Charles A. McClelland, faculty sponsor of IRC and member of the board, as well as Ed Simons, will supervise the club election.

Italian Program Featured Today

The college spotlight will be thrown on Italy as revealed in musical form this Friday, when the Modern Language Department of San Francisco State College presents the Italian Cultural Hour.

The program, to be presented in College Hall 109 at 10 a.m., will be directed by Ernest O. Lombardi, instructor of Italian. The pot-pourri of Italian music will feature everything from accordianists, pianists, violinists, to singers and whole classes currently studying the language.

Included in the program are Leoncavollo's Prologo from I Pagliacci, sung by Angelo Rodriguez, baritone, his "Mattinata," sung by Jay Selby, baritone, and Puccini's "Un bel di vedremo" from Madame Butterfly, performed by Theome Georgas, soprano. Other numbers of more than ordinary interest are Musette's "Waltz Song" from La Boheme by Puccini, rendered by Bertucelli-Arnau, a trombone duet, Verdi's Sempre libera, sung by soprano Roberta de Haven, and two songs sung by an entire Italian class—La Campana di San Giusto, by Drovetti-Arona, and Finicula Finicula, by Denza.

Miss Lily Germano and Mrs. Marguerite Figueroid will act as piano accompanists.

Had a Little Drink About...

Every week the Gater receives a small one page paper on which is printed all of the headlines of crimes which involve liquor. It seems that the people who publish this thing are out to put the nation back on prohibition and they feel that college youth may be the answer to quest for leadership in the Battle of the Booze.

Last week's epistle from the temperance group was full of good meaty headlines which proved nothing more than that a lot of people are having quite a gay time all over the nation.

One of the nicest, and most challenging, was a headline which supposedly originated in one of the Eastern journals and posed the question, "How Many Teen-Agers Drink, Smoke, Neck?"

I will offer my services to try and find out the answer for all interested parties if they will kindly consent to pay any incidental expenses which may accrue in the quest.

In many of the instances cited by the small sheet, there was no alternative but for me to be in complete agreement with the attempt to abolish some wrongdoing. For instance, there was a situation in which a youngster "Blames Liquor and Inability to Find Job For Career of Crime."

Here is a clear case in which a difficult economic setup has confused a young lad to the point where he had to steal to pay for his bottled dreams. A strong, vigorous and never ending crusade should be carried out to solve this evil. The booze was not the cause of the boy's trouble, but the lack of funds with which to live in a regal manner compelled him to reach into the pockets of others.

Another headline carried the information that police had "Raids School Frat Beer Party, and Arrested 19 Boys." This comes as a complete shock to me, because I never dreamed that fraternity "boys" drank. The members of my frat lead clean lives and all that we have at our meetings is aged carrot juice which is blessed by Phil Ryan.

"Beer Glass Hits Student in Face," was printed way down in the corner and almost escaped my eye. What they neglected to point out was whether the glass had any beer in it or not.

The guy must really have been potted if he couldn't duck. I have a friend who got hit in the face with a bottle of Sauterne and he claimed that he saw six different bottles in the air and must have tried to catch the wrong one.

In Boston the citizenry was rudely awakened to the fact that a "Girl of 16 Was Served Rum in S. End Bar."

What in Heaven's name was she doing drinking rum in the South End, when she probably could have gotten domestic Bourbon in some of the other sections of town?

Her worst crime was one of poor selection and she could be put on the path to better drinking before she is 17.

"Tossing Gal's Pup in Her Salad Jails Romantic Drunk," seems to me to be the most unromantic thing he could possibly have done, but maybe he thought he had invented a new toss salad and wanted to impress his sweetie.

Faculty should take note of one little item which pointed out that a "Teacher Was Arrested as a Whiskey Seller." Undoubtedly he found frog selling to be the solution for the problem of most teachers, which is lack of pay.

Maybe some of the aforementioned cases of gross misconduct on the part of our citizens should place some of us on the track of wholesome living, without the benefit of full fifth.

All I know is that I'm going out and have a drink.

'Joan of Lorraine' Next Major Drama Production

In one of its most ambitious projects of the year, State's drama department will present Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine" for a six day run in Frederic Burk auditorium, starting Thursday, December 7. Performances are also scheduled for December 8 and 9 of next week, and for December 14, 15 and 16 of the following week.

Mr. Anderson's version of the story of Joan, a maid of Orleans who surrenders to a burning death rather than betray her faith in God, provided the basis for the technicolor motion picture, "Joan of Arc," which is currently showing in San Francisco.

RESEMBLES SHAKESPEARE

Resembling Shakespearean form with its play within a play composition, "Joan of Lorraine" tells two dramatic stories: one of Joan and her contemporaries, set in the France of her era, and another of the theater of today. Both peoples share a common problem in their search for self-realization and a firm religious belief.

"Joan" is under the direction of Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, head of the drama department, and stars Virginia Cox in the title role. Dan Whiteside as the Dauphin and Alan Drady as Masters will complete the trio of featured roles.

Others in the large cast include Norm Bartold, Kenny O'Hara, John Bradely, Bill Moore, Jack Kalman, Bill Green, C. Y. Green, Bill Seghy, Dion Chesse, Bob Trueb, Barbara Houghton, Jeanne Dam, Doris Allen, Mayoni Saul, Ken Robinson, Ray Truman, Alan Simms, Bob Goebel, Dick

Prewin and Roger Tennyson. Tickets for the production will sell at 60 cents to student body card holders, and at 90 cents for general admission.

Fraternity Sponsors Toy Drive For Needy Children

Delta Phi Epsilon, honorary fraternity for elementary school teachers, is sponsoring a toy drive for underprivileged children. New toys and toys that can be mended are being sought. Collection boxes are located in College hall, main floor, and Frederic Burk main floor. The mended toys will be sent to hospitals and children's nurseries for Christmas.

Staters Win Poem Contest

Three poems by State students have been accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. They are: "A Wish," by William O'Connor; "Good-night," by Annie Plaat; and "A Storm," by Frances Gould.

The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America, representing every section of the country. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted.

Comedy Lack Mars Plays

By Ruth Carley

On November 17 and 18, San Francisco State's theater gave its first series of fall workshop plays. These plays are produced, directed, and acted by students. The workshops were established in order to give students experience in these fields, and have been very successful in this.

"Strike Four," a drama about a baseball player who tries to make a comeback, was written by a former State student, Terry Kilpatrick. Bill Witt directed it. Acting honors were taken by Robert Goble, who played "Speed," the kind old drunk. Acting in this play, generally, was very spotty. There were occasional flashes of real talent, but the over all effect was that the various interpretations had not quite jelled.

"Hyacinth On Wheels" was directed by Bob Harris. Congratulations to Bob and Tom Hand, who did the sets for a very fascinating and artistic production. The acting in "Hyacinth" was generally of good caliber. There was little or no overacting, which was surprising considering the tenseness of this drama.

"Mooneafal Mugford," directed by Annie Platt, was probably the best co-ordinated of the four plays. The acting was of a high caliber, with no character discrepancies. A very good show.

"A Kiss in the Dark," directed by Elaine Plasberg, was the only comedy. It was a 19th century farce, acted with all the verve and aplomb of the good old days. The acting was consistent and good for that style of "drammer." This play was a very welcome relief after the three previous performances.

My main comment, as a whole, on these productions, was that there should have been one more comedy on the program. The three preceding shows were all tragic in a grueling, disheartening way. Another comedy would have relieved the tenseness and made possible a greater appreciation of the qualities of both.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 7...THE RAVEN

"You can use my name... but don't quoth me!"

Nobody's pulling the feathers over this bird's eyes!

He's spent too many semesters in Psychology I. He knows—as any smart smoker knows—that you can't make up your mind about cigarette mildness on one fast puff or a quick sniff.

A one-inhale comparison certainly doesn't give you much proof to go on.

That's why we suggest:

THE SENSIBLE TEST... The 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed.

After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels
than any other cigarette!

Talented Stater Encores on Freddy Martin

TV Show to Win Place on Band of Tomorrow

By Jean Lesser

Gene Merlino is one of the few people who can laugh at the old maxim: "Opportunity knocks but once." Opportunity not only knocked twice for Gene, but it nearly kicked the door down the second time.

The versatile Mr. Merlino appeared on the Freddy Martin "Admiral Band of Tomorrow T. V. Show" as a contestant singing "I'll Always Love You," and playing "Oodles of Noodles," on the sax. Gene didn't win the contest. The television audience wasn't happy about the decision, nor was it bashful about letting Freddy Martin know about it. By "popular demand," as Mr. Martin aptly stated, Gene appeared again on the show.

On the second show Gene displayed still another talent by playing the clarinet. "Jalousie" was not only rendered on his clarinet, but on his sax as well. Gene won the contest, and the audience was happy. "I felt great," Gene said. "It sort of made up for the first time."

Gene won a seat on the "Admiral Band of Tomorrow" for his efforts. The band will play for two weeks at the Mural room of the St.

Francis, as well as appear on the regular T.V. show for the next six weeks.

The first appearance on the show won indirectly for Gene a job singing and playing at the Alibaba in Oakland.

"You really don't have time to be nervous about being on T.V.," Gene said. "Freddy Martin gives the interviews, you practice Friday afternoon, and Friday night you're on. The biggest thrill comes when you stand there and see yourself singing and playing on one of the sets near the stage."

Gene hails from Mission High School, and is a music major here at State. State has made good use of this lad. He has sung with the dance band, belongs to the sax group and clarinet group, plays with the State concert band, and with the orchestra. Gene is also a member of Coast Guard Reserve band.

Last summer vacation Gene sang and played at the Flamingo Club in Las Vegas. "I never fell in the pit, or lost my clarinet. The embarrassing things always happen to the other guy," Gene said apologetically.

Gene has studied at The Eastman School of Music and has been devoting himself to music for about eight years.

As for the future, Gene sums it up simply, "I just want to sing."

Fund Replaces Player Insurance

Following the policy of several other colleges on the coast, State has decided to discontinue casualty insurance. This does not mean that persons injured in athletics are not protected, as a separate fund of $1035 has been set aside for this purpose—caring for State's athletic casualties.

Under the previous plan, insurance was carried on a basis of "$25 deductible" and cost $1575. Out of this premium State received, at the end of the year, $347.51. On this basis, and with the provision that a doctor attend all games, the insurance company quoted a price of $1035, the amount that State decided to set aside.

This decision was not reached without a thorough investigation, but when it was found that such schools as Stanford, San Jose State, Cal Aggies, City College, Fresno State and others used similar plans successfully, State decided to adopt this plan.

Askims to Attend New York Meet

Curtis Emanuel Askims, San Francisco State College senior, has been selected to represent California college students at the annual Congress of American Industry meeting in New York City, December 6 to 8.

Askims, 27, lives at 1050 Haight Street and is majoring in Business and Business Education at S. F. State.

Complaints are many concerning the school dances. "They're all the same," is a common complaint. Dance support has been poor. If you've been saying "I'd like to go to a good dance" ... start saving money. The Junior Prom is coming up in January, and it's going to be at the Fairmont Hotel. Just a preview flash of things to come... be prepared!

Alpha Omega sorority is again donating its services in a very worthwhile venture. It played cards and talked to the amputees at the Letterman Hospital last week... really a service organization.

Letters to the Editor

THE BOILER ROOM

OATH COVERAGE

Dear Editor:

I believe that the Golden Gater is only college newspaper in the country where an issue such as the loyalty oath, which is by now old news, gets headlines over our first conference football champion-

You are a small college but you had a fine reputation and great potentialities of becoming well known on the West coast and in the East. But, with the loss of these eight scholarly people, and doubtless others, who will carry on the liberal advancement and what learned men will you attract to your staff?

You will take your place along with the University of California, which is no longer worthy of being called an institution of higher learning. They are big and their loss was great, but you are small which makes your loss even greater.

I have the utmost respect for that portion of your faculty who, knowing the significance of the oath, refused to comply with it. They are truly the ones who are defending and preserving our democratic institutions. Having had classes from Dr. Eason Monroe, I know him to be a man of integrity and merit and regret that he was dismissed. I know, however, that he felt it essential to follow his convictions and I thoroughly admire him for the step he took.

Indeed, I am reassured that such men as he realize the seriousness of such an act; men who know it involves much more than a signature.

I would very much like to be around the college at this time. The outcome of this issue will determine whether State college will be worth attending. Unless this undemocratic act is repealed and these instructors are returned to the staff, you, San Francisco State, are digging your own grave.—Marianne Johanson, student, University of Washington.

What's going on around State? Radio Guild had a proposition to make, which should prove enlightening to the student body and valuable to the organizations.

On their weekly program, "This Is State," the guild will advertise or publicize any event being sponsored by any group, merely for the asking... they'll even announce meeting times. Good deal!

Sigma Delta Gamma sorority and Alpha Zeta Sigma fraternity are planning a joint meeting next Wednesday.

Three wet and bedraggled girls cheered madly at the Stanford-Army football game—Joan Lowrey, Alice Hanoun and Dottie Melby. Why all the interest in Army?

My mistake: You do not receive $25 for donating a pint of blood at the Red Cross... the Erwin Memorial does pay its contributors, however.

Pockets were scraped clean, and "pigs" were shaken until silent, but some enthusiasts made it to Oregon. Lewis and Clark must be convinced that State is a "spunky" little school with a lot of spirit. Reports have it that Beta Chi Delta went to Medford in full force. Glad for the nice turnout.

Sigma Delta Gamma will step into the campus limelight tonight with their presentation of the Winter Carnival. Decorations are said to be exceptional.

Dennis Huajardo, a senior here at State, and a Miss Alberta Smith from the Providence College of nursing announced their engagement during the Thanksgiving holidays. Congratulations!

Pretty soon they'll call this the Detour College. It seems like another entrance is being blocked off with a repair sign. Yes, every day it seems, some part of the school is being condemned... A firm reminder, my friends, that time and tide wait for no one; nature's laws will definitely prevail!

Joe Huston, coach of Lewis and Clark football team, had one comment to make after the game that helped to raise the post-Pearl Bowl gloom. Huston said, "I like your offense. You run the 'T' the way it should be run." Huston also stated that every man on his squad was amazed that they had won by such a large score, feeling that they were not that much better than the Gators.

A pleasant surprise was the way the people of Ashland (home of Southern Oregon College) wished the team luck prior to the game and rooted for them at the stadium.

Rumor has it that even though State doesn't have a bid to the Pineapple Bowl, a game with the University of Hawaii may still be in State's future plans.

If you listened to the Pear Bowl game over Station KYA, you should thank Ira Blue. Ira made all the arrangements to have the show sent to the bay area. He's really a great State booster.

S. F. State Football Squad Winds Up 1950 Season!

Thirteen Gators Listed as All-Conference; Naming of De Vito, Ripa Shows QB Strength

Thirteen members of the San Francisco State football squad were mentioned on the 1950 All-Far Western Conference Football roster. Five Gators made the first team, five the second and three received honorable mention.

Sam DeVito and Bob Keropian, who last year were mentioned on the second string moved up to the number one squad. Dick Payne, end, Bob Williamson, tackle, and Rudy Smith, halfback, were also members of the "dream team."

DeVito and Smith received four first string votes out of the five schools in the conference. Lauren Fickett, Chico State center, was the only other man to receive that many votes.

The nomination of Tom Ripa as quarterback on the second team paid tribute to the Gators' strength at this position. The second team included State's Elmer Gallegos, end; Neil Gunn, guard; Maurie Koch, center, and Walt Jourdan, fullback.

Honorable mention went to guards Don Clare and John DeGennaro, and to fullback John O'Shea.

Selection of the All-Conference teams was made by a vote of the coaches of the five participating schools. Announcement of the results was made Thanksgiving morning. Certificates were given to the men on the first team.

The first two teams were as follows:

Ends—Dick Payne, State, and Norman MacKenzie, Chico State. Tackles—Bob Williamson, State, and Bill Bettencourt, Chico State. Guards—Don Martin, Chico State, and Don Lehman, Cal Aggies. ## JV Basketballers Meet San Jose State Frosh

By Terry Sweeney

Seeking their second win of the still young basketball season, Coach Ray Kaufman's Jayvee basketball team travels to San Jose to tangle with the powerful San Jose frosh tonight. If past games are any criteria, the game should be a real thriller, as the Kaufmanites always give the Spartans a rough go.

After losing the opener to a powerful Moffett Field outfit, the Jayvees dumped the Washington High 130's, 42-22, but dropped the varsity contest in a 46-40 thriller.

In the Moffett Field game, the Jayvees were humiliated, 55-37. The Navy boys just had too much rebounding for our side. Gil Perry was high for our side with seven digits, while John Hosler followed with six.

The Washington 130's were no match for our Jayvees, as our side rolled to an easy victory. Don Bear was high point man with nine points, followed by Homan, who nailed six against his ex-teammates.

In the varsity contest, however, it was a different story. Our guys were just unable to get going. Bob Brown was high for the Baby Gators with 11 points.

Despite the dismal start, Coach Kaufman isn't glum. "Our boys have great spirit this season," he said, and named as standouts Dale Sharp, Gil Perry, Bob Frelow, Bob Childs and Bob Brown.

State in 61-7 Pear Bowl Game (We Lose); Caho's Performance Rated Outstanding

By Toni Robinson

San Francisco State's Gators felt the sting of one of the worst defeats in the history of the college, when the Lewis and Clark Pioneers poured it on 61-7, in the Thanksgiving Day Pear Bowl game at Medford, Oregon.

Obviously nervous, the Gators never reached their previous form of the season as they were racked again and again by the powerful Pioneers.

State's first bad break came on the kick-off, when fullback John O'Shea fumbled the ball at State's 18 on the kick-off return. Lewis and Clark recovered and ran for a series of downs. When the Gators again got the ball a bad pass from center resulted in another fumble and another Lewis and Clark recovery. Ruben Baisch, who lived up to the publicity he received prior to the game, scored the Pioneers first touchdown on a run from the State one.

ANOTHER GATOR FUMBLE

Another fumble by the Gators gave the ball to the Pioneers and they again marched to the goal line. Baisch carried the ball over.

After the kick-off by Rudy Smith to the State 26, Smith, Marvin Crews, and Walt Jourdan attempted to start a drive, but Glen Waaland was forced to come in to kick for the Gators after Jourdan recovered a Gator fumble on the State 16. Waaland's kick was blocked and Jourdan again recovered bringing the ball out of the end zone to the State one. Stan Walker of the Pioneers went over for a touchdown on their first down.

State again attempted to rally but succeeded in going only from their own 12 to the State 35, where Waaland kicked.

After the run back to the LC 41, Ruben Baisch took the ball and rambled 59 yards to pay dirt.

State managed their first down as the quarter ended but a fumble by Jourdan as the second quarter began gave the Pioneers the ball.

Lewis and Clark fumbled with Caho, Bob Muster and Bob Williamson in on the recovery and started their first sustained drive of the game on the State 31. Dewey Guerra and Bob Keropian made neers' 29 yard line.

PASS INTERFERENCE PLAY

A DeVito pass intended for Dick Payne was ruled complete because of pass interference and the Gators were threatening. Three power plays and pass play proved unsuccessful and the Pioneers took over on the State 2. Calmly the Lewis and Clark team moved the ball out of dangerous ground with Ruben Baisch carrying the ball from the LC 25 to the State 27. On this play the only man who prevented Baisch from going for another six pointer was linebacker Caho. Caho took a straight arm in the face then dove for Baisch, bringing the chunky halfback to the ground. Dick Walker took the ball on the next play and went over for the fifth score.

Again it appeared that the Gators had regained their equilibrium when DeVito called a drive featuring the backfield of Keropian, Smith and Jourdan. Down in scoring ground, however, the Pioneer defense tightened and held the Gators on downs.

As the half ended, the LC team was on the State 12 ready to go for another touchdown.

The Gators kicked off in the second half and three plays later Caho recovered a fumble on the State 24. On the Gators fourth down Rudy Smith broke loose and raced 54 yards to the Lewis and Clark 34. A Gator fumble was picked up by guard Bob Watt, keeping the Staters chances alive. On fourth down DeVito faded back to the Lewis and Clark 15 yard line and tossed a beautiful pass to Elmer Gallegos in the end zone. Warren Albee converted. Albee was the only man able to score a conversion against the Pioneers this season.

CAHO TOP DEFENSIVE STAR

Near the end of the third quarter after "Tank" Baisch had scored another six points Bill Caho intercepted a pass from quarterback Clarke Anderson on the State 39 and ran it back to the State 43. After the backfield had moved the ball to the LC 21 the drive bogged down and the LC team took over.

Three more touchdowns were scored by the Pioneers before the final gun ended the Gators most heartbreaking loss.

For his outstanding effort Bill Caho should be awarded a chip off of the Pear Bowl Trophy. Without his outstanding defensive work the Gators might have been humiliated far more. Many times Caho hauled down a Pioneer ball carrier, who otherwise would have been safely on his way for a touchdown.

Gator Cagers Battle San Jose

fine showings, according to Coach Farmer.

State doesn't meet its first Far Western Conference foe until January, when the team should be well developed. The Conference's "team to beat" this season should be defending champion Chico State, which has four vets returning this year. Farmer thinks of the game tonight as a sort of "test" for the Gators. He feels that if the team can make a good showing against such a powerful foe as San Jose this early in the season, they should go well against conference competition later in the schedule.

State to Issue Fencing Certificate To Bob O'Brian, Gater Instructor

By Wes Olson

Dean David J. Cox, State college's director of athletics, announced recently the college has been authorized to issue certificates of eligibility to instruct fencing by a national fencing coaches organization.

Eric Funke d'Eguf, fencing coach and instructor, explained that these certificates are the same as the life saving instructor certificates and the first aid instructor certificates issued by the American Red Cross. They state that the holder has learned the art of fencing.

Funke stated that because of his duties as backfield coach of the football squad he has not seen any of the boxers in action.

ing and has also learned the technique of teaching fencing and has demonstrated his or her ability to teach by working with beginning fencers and has passed a proficiency test.

The first person to receive this certificate will be Bill O'Brian, a graduate student, working for his master's degree. O'Brian has had about 10 years of fencing experience and at one time held the Pacific Coast Open Championship in Saber. Jack Andersen and Tony Gex, members of the varsity team, have learned a lot under the tutelage of O'Brian.

Dean Cox emphasized that the certificate alone is not enough to qualify a person to teach in a secondary school, but it would be a valuable asset to the holders of general secondary credentials.
